

The donkey, the dog, the cat and the rooster looked at one another.

'What funny men,' they said, 'what made them run away?'

The animals walked into the house and saw lots of things to eat on a table.

They all sat down and began to eat.

After they had eaten, the animals were very tired and went to sleep.

The donkey slept in the garden.

The dog slept at the door.

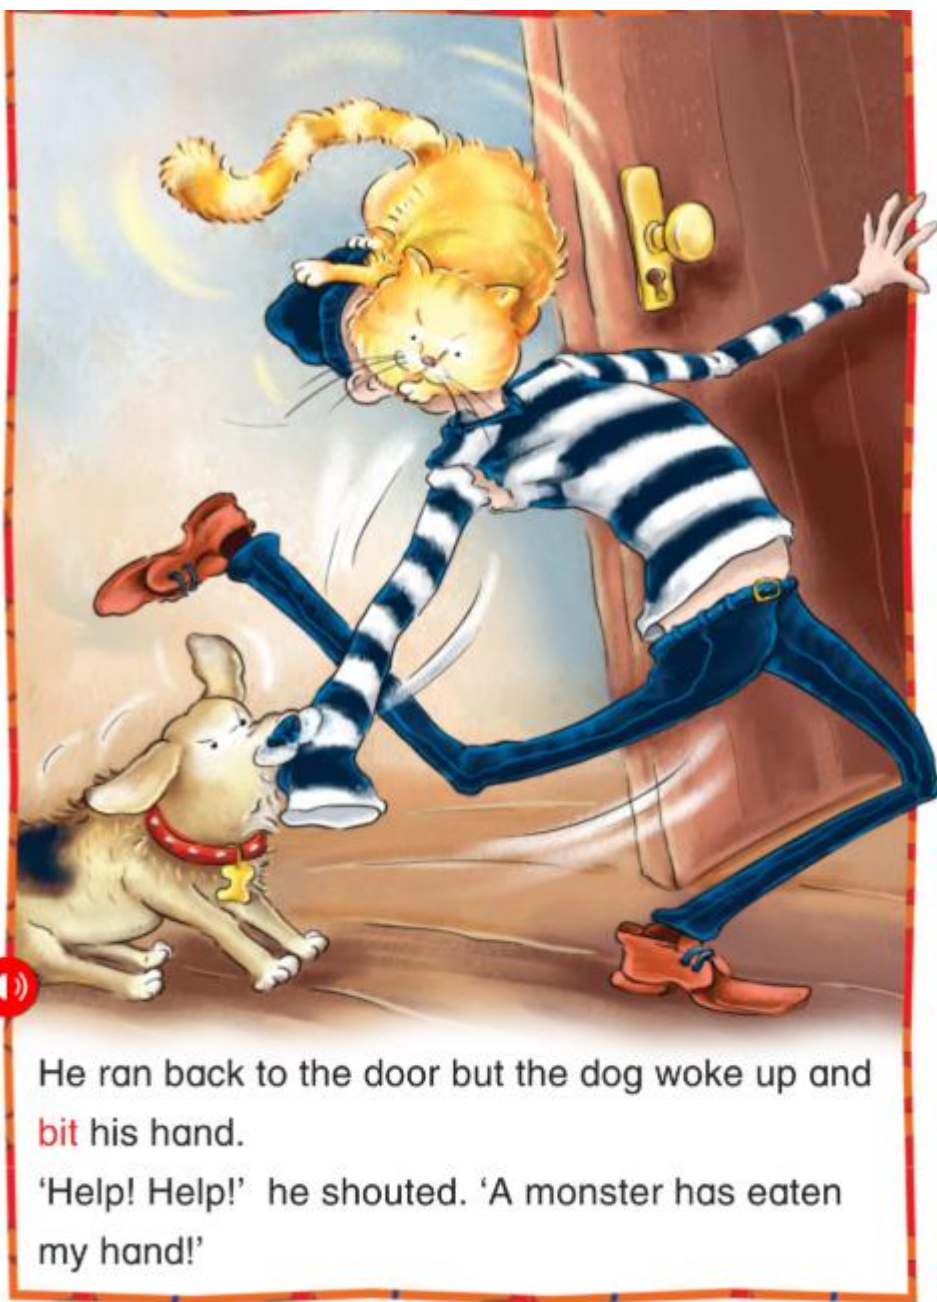

The cat slept on the table.

The rooster slept on the roof.

The robbers had not run away.
They wanted the gold and they were going to get it.
One of the robbers came back to the house.
He opened the back door and began to look for his gold.
He put his hand on the table where the cat was asleep.
The cat woke up and jumped on top of him.
'Help! Help!' the robber shouted. 'A monster has jumped on me!'

He ran back to the door but the dog woke up and bit his hand.
'Help! Help!' he shouted. 'A monster has eaten my hand!'